With lockdown restrictions being eased significantly, and children back in schools and clubs, it's good to be getting back to some semblance of normality for our children after a year or more of upheaval, change and uncertainty. In the midst of all these challenges one thing that remains certain is the truth of God's word, and the importance of helping children to realise that their Father God is completely reliable and is the same yesterday, today and forever.

In this summer edition of Kids' Corner we bring you a great range of resources to help your child grow in faith, with inspiring biographies (below and p.4 & 6), fantastic faith-based fiction for those long summer days (p.10-11), and the wonders of creation (p.2 & 8). With the summer holidays coming up, we also have a fun range of activity books to help keep them entertained, while learning about the Bible (p.7 & 12), and plenty of Bible stories - including our lively front cover feature - There are Lions in this Book!. Finally, with mental health issues coming to the fore, we have two new books on p.9 helping parents walk their children through various emotions and struggles, as well as a new series tackling the many questions older children frequently ask.

Please do visit and support your local Christian bookshop as they open again and are keen to be of service.
